It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE WOMAN'S BOARD OF MISSIONS FOR THE PACIFIC ISLANDS

The Woman's Board of Missions in forty-third annual session met in Central Union Church on June 2, 1914.

Devotional service was conducted by the President, Mrs. Theodore Richards. She read from Exodus 14, emphasizing the words, "Speak unto the children of Israel that they go forward." Ever the word of the Lord is "forward." There are obstacles in the way, but "the Lord shall fight for you." There are perplexities. He has said, "I will guide thee." How may we know his guidance? "If any man lack wisdom let him ask of God." "We go forward on our knees." This Board was founded in prayer. Its plans were developed in prayer. It has long been carried on by prayer. Is there a possibility that in days of growing prosperity we may tend to depend upon our own initiative, to carry forward our own projects, failing sometimes to seek unto the Lord for his leading in our plans? If we go forward enveloped in the incense of prayer God's spirit, as the pillar of fire, will enable us surely to "go in and possess the land." And the President's voice in petition was followed by other voices.

Brief monthly reports preceded the day's outlook over the year which included the treasurer's full annual statement: the annual reports of recording, foreign and home secretaries, the latter presenting also reports from the branch societies; Christian work as developed by the young women of the Gleaners, Lima Kokuas, Auroras and "Kins," and set forth by representatives of these auxiliary organizations; the work of the Board in its four departments, Hawaiian, Chinese, Japanese and Portuguese, presented by our missionaries in the reports of their individual service, with some outlook also over the broader fields which their labor represents, Mrs. May Wilcox kindly speaking concerning things Hawaiian in the absence of Miss Laura Green.

Digitized by Google

All these reports are presented in full on later pages.

An insight into the new and varied scheme of work for the coming year was presented by Mrs. Philip Weaver, chairman, in her

PROGRAM OF WORK FOR 1914-15.

"Your program committee has met and lays before you the following report:

"For some years this society has followed the plans of the Central Committee on United Study of Foreign Missions. The work of the coming year, as planned by the Central Committee, is a Comparative Study of Child Welfare in non-Christian lands, and the method a discursive and largely anecdotal course of reading, in the familiar annual text book; the object, so far as discernable, a stimulation of interest in missions and thereby an increased collection. Now with the chosen subject your committee has the warmest sympathy. It comes with peculiar timeliness to the condition of affairs in our own city. We move that child welfare be our subject for the coming year. But we would suggest a different method of work, and a somewhat different object as the desired result of the year's effort.

"That the Woman's Board is an independent society instead of a branch of a mainland general society shows that from the first it has recognized its peculiar relation to foreign missions. Our foreign work is often most fruitful when it is done in our very home. This year your committee suggests that we revert to the earlier policy of the Board, and use methods suggested by the immediate needs of the situation confronting us.

"Instead of a general view of the conditions of the pagan world, obtained by reading and the presentation of literary papers, let us acquaint ourselves intimately with the work of the four social workers we have in our own city, for whom we are in a sense responsible, and this intimate acquaintance to be obtained not by any literary method but by visiting, by consulting with them and studying their field of work. Let us find out what they want in the way of equipment, and put our wits to work to get it so far as a crowd of determined women can. Let us find out just what they want of us in personal service, and then do what we are asked to do, or forever after keep our peace as to our missionary zeal. In short, let us put our interest in missions to the somewhat biting test of plain, simple fact—what of ourselves are we willing to invest, other than an occasional dime or dollar.

"In order to get at this, we have met with each of the four expert workers, Japanese, Miss Gulick; Chinese, Mrs. Mackenzie; Hawaiian, Miss Green; and Portuguese, Mrs. Soares, and asked for definite lists of what was wanted to further their work. In the first five minutes Mrs. Mackenzie wanted enough perfectly definite things to make a list as long as your arm; Miss Green almost gasped at the thought of wanting to a definite purpose with an idea of getting needed equipment and help, and her list was even less modest than Mrs. Mackenzie's. Mrs. Soares and Miss Gulick also want thick and fast. Here are a few samples, just to indicate the variety: Simple layettes that can can be loaned in cases that need immediate help; any other baby clothes; singing teachers who will help in clubs; also Sunday school singing; ditto for latest fads in embroidery, and what we used to call fancy work; a good syringe; an occasional supply of eggs and other delicacies for the very sick; sheets and pillow cases that can be lent and returned for further service; potted plants, especially the small flowering sorts; where to apply for the occasional outfitting of a child to send it decently to day or Sunday school; hair ribbons as a means of grace for discouraged and neglected small girls; also anything else small girls wear; ditto for small boys; a base-ball outfit; good times, tea parties, outings for old, tired out and thoroughly blue Chinese women who are stranded so far as any fresh interests in life, because the transition stage of their own social conditions has left them out of relation to their social order; workers in Sunday schools and clubs of every sort and variety.

"Not one of the four said money, not one said anything about the loneliness of her work, that year after year, we do not go near our workers, because we have hired them to serve for us—our proxies to God? But under all the list, often unconsciously to the speaker, was a hungry-hearted cry for friends; friends who cared for the work, who knew, whom you could depend on; just plain human friends one could tie to.

"Now with the aid of the workers the committee hopes so to organize our own forces and those of the four girls' societies that are in a way our wards and the Sunday school, that we each of us can find our appropriate job, something that we would more than half like to do, that needs doing. The details of the plan we shall be ready to submit in the first meeting in the fall.

"It might be a human thing to do to stand back of each of our four vested interests in foreign fields in much the same way. Already Miss Judd has written to find out if there is anything we can do to help out with the ever-present subject that presses hard on the unlimited hearts and flat purses of mission workers—what can we do about Christmas? Our gifts must be timely and sensible as we can make them, but better even woolen socks for Africans perhaps than the absolute nothing we sometimes offer at Christmas. At least, they would create a diversion. Then not as members of the Women's Board but just as plain, every-day church women me might remember in some way the people at Nauru and the Wickes of North China. Being human, they probably have homesick streaks at times to fight against, and a simple, even a silly, gift with love is a wonderful pick-me-up. Not that we shall use anything but our best sense in selecting—but even Christmas chocolates with love count.

"Now all this means busy times. We shall have too much on hand to write many papers, and if the plan goes, reports and conferences may take more of our time than before. But we shall have earned the right in our monthly session to sit back comfortably with hemstitching or what not, at as attractive a missionary matinee as the program committee can get up. So there will be occasional papers on the condition of child welfare in pagan lands, papers dealing with the latest governmental as well as missionary movements, such as the addition of Kindergartens to the new school system of the New China.

"Now all this I have spoken of is simply our own corporate job, the reason for our existence. If we back up our employes so that they can get efficient work done, surely that is nothing especially to our credit. But we are not only a missionary society of the Central Union Church; we are the oldest women's club for unselfish community service in this city. Now our church, together with St. Andrew's, through the two Men's Leagues, is going to take up before the Legislature next spring, the question of a Child Labor Law. How much about that shall we know or care? One of the other Child Welfare bills to be presented, if present plans carry, is to look to a lowering of our present child mortality rates; Mr. Rath and Dr. Pratt would like our help and interest in making this matter clear and vital to the women of the community, so that instead of a vague good-will we might really know what they or we are trying to secure. There is to be a bill for the securing of an adequate or rather a more nearly adequate foundation of a school for the Deaf, Dumb and Blind Children of the Territory. The Detention Home is not a dead issue. The crying need for a home for feeble-minded girls and women is another matter already under advisement. The censorship of moving pictures is in the hands of a committee of the Humane Society.

Digitized by Google

"Through the Associated Charities an attempt is to be made to unite these various individual bills into one child welfare measure. Back of it could stand all the societies devoted to betterment of existing conditions, as well as all good citizens generally. In this way the Legislature is not confused with a multiplicity of bills; the danger of knifing one reform in the zeal of accomplishing another is eliminated or reduced to a minimum, and the whole program strengthened. It is still a question whether this almost millenial unity can be secured; we can do a good bit toward securing this result practically, if even the whole scheme may not carry, by furnishing the time and occasion for a series of programs on the proposed legislation.

"If this society so wills, the program committee will arrange such a series of meetings with the best obtainable speakers the city affords for its spring sessions.

"2. In the public library, the church or churches, if it seems wise, and in the public press, will be an up-to-date bibliography, by every device in our power made attractive and stimulating. Miss Allyn of the public library is a host in herself at this sort of thing and has promised her expert help.

"3. By special invitation to societies, individuals, and the general public, the committee will call on you to help get good audiences, that the women of the city may have a thoroughly intelligent conception of the proposed legislation. As a Women's Board we will don our most fetching clothes, put forth our best steps generally as hostess and make these discussions the thing for the coming Spring and Lent.

"4. Moreover we are to stand ready to play into the hands of those directly in charge of these measures or the city program if we are lucky enough to get it into that shape, with whatever further help they want—perhaps a petition, perhaps a mass meeting, perhaps special persons to be seen—anything in our power to do to further the kingdom of God and his Christ in this city of Honolulu, in 1914-1915.

"We shall have with this program small time to spend on our general culture as to worldwide subjects—we shall have not even time to be greatly interested in our own spiritual culture; but we may get things done that are sadly in need of the doing; and sometimes the by-products are not among the least results of our efforts. There is a saying concerning the 'things that shall be added unto' those who seek first the Kingdom."

Affirmative action was taken on the following report presented by Mrs. Dillingham, chairman of the committee, on

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Mrs. Z. K. Myers, chairman of nominating committee, named for reelection all elective officers eligible for the ensuing year, with additional names of Mrs. Spencer Bowen and Mrs. J. D. Marques to follow Mrs. Doremus Scudder, Mrs. W. J. Forbes and Mrs. J. P. Erdman retiring after a two years' service; also the name of Mrs. C. B. Andrews to succeed Mrs. H. E. Webster, now on the mainland. These nominees were duly elected, and the full list of officers for 1914-15 are named on the last cover of the printed annual.

CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION

A special item of business transacted at this session was a change in Art. III of the Constitution from its original form, which reads:

"Article III. The payment of One Dollar shall constitute Annual Membership; Ten Dollars, Life Membership."—to the following revised form:

Article III. The payment of Ten Dollars shall constitute Life Membership. The payment of Any Contribution Regularly to the Treasurer shall constitute Annual Membership.

A delegation of five ladies from the annual gathering of the Episcopal societies brought greeting, voiced by their president, Mrs. Arthur G. Smith, and the compliment was returned by a circle of our Board to them.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The last hour was devoted chiefly to a visualizing of the

Digitized by Google

Board's four departments of work as they meet the young life of the respective nationalities.

First upon the stage came fourteen little ones from the Japanese Children's Home, marching to music by one of their number—children of ten and babies of three, kimono clad, giving one motion-song each in their tongue and ours, and marching out again, no baby failing in any particular.

Then came twenty-four girls from the Industrial Home, erect, attentive, speaking well and singing sweetly themes which unfortunately had not contributed to the atmosphere of their neglected childhood. "Oh, they are not bad," pleaded a sympathetic voice as they left the stage, "it is only that they have had none, before, to teach them to be good."

When these retired there came on, in double line, the junior club of the Beretania Mission, the "Try Brigade" of twenty-six girls, bearing their mottoed banners—"Try, and keep on trying," and circling about in systematic bewilderment until they arranged themselves to form consecutively the letters of their name, "T R Y." As we watched their skillful work and listened to their voices, we remembered Mrs. Mackenzie's words, "When you see them in their dainty Chinese dress, their best, with happy faces, and on their best behavior, you will not realize the problems they present to us with their new-found Chinese freedom amid the temptations of our overcrowded and unchristian surroundings."

Following them came the seniors of the same mission, helpers in Sabbath school, sewing and club work, a half-dozen fine-looking girls, bearing two by two the separate colors, red, white and blue, and the import of their words was that the principles represented by our flag they were weaving into their lives, as—turning and intermarching with their bunting held aloft—they wove into one strong, fair strand the colors of their country—for these are American-Chinese, born to the Red-White-and-Blue.

After them came in pleasing exercise of recitation and song eight young girls from the Portuguese church, an organization whose earnest life shows the rich fruitage of longer christian work on one-time Romish soil.

Then followed the culminating scene when these children of different nationality and race, seventy-eight in all and representing numbers yet to be won, stood together and sang as with one heart and one voice—America:

My country! 'tis of thee,
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing.

"And so we are building in Honolulu," said Mother Bishop as the song ceased.

Thanks were voted by the Board to the leaders whose special effort had brought before us a glimpse of this portion of our work, doing and yet to be done.

Special thanks were also expressed to Mrs. Fuller and her corps of able assistants for the delicious luncheon served to the Board and its guests in the parish house at noon.

Two hundred and ten persons were delightfully served at this luncheon, while the attendance at the sessions of the day, including our eighty young performers, was one hundred and ninety.

A good day in the Board's history closed with song in the words,

"Let every creature rise and bring
Peculiar honors to our King;
Angels descend with songs again
And earth repeat the loud Amen," being followed in benediction by Rev. O. H. Gulick.

ANNUAL REPORT OF RECORDING SECRETARY.

The Woman's Board of Missions this day closes a forty-third year of service—earnest service we believe it has been and hopeful.

The four departments of home work continue. Miss Gulick among the women and children of the Sunrise Kingdom in Hawaii, Mrs. MacKenzie in the responsive work of the Beretania Street Settlement, and Mrs. Tranquada among her Portuguese sisters still bound in the faith of Rome—these pursue their earnest work, and their reports today outline their year of service. Miss Laura Green, the long-time, faithful and efficient missionary among the Hawaiians, has been obliged this year to accept the Board's offer of a long vacation, and as Hawaiian homes and hearts have missed her ministrations of loving counsel and service so we shall miss her word-pictures of their home life and needs. But her department of work has not been closed, for her Bible readers, under the efficient supervision kindly offered by Mrs. May Wilcox, continue their calls among their people.

A seventh time we have contributed through the American Board to the foreign fields of Lin Ch'ing, China, and Mt. Silinda, Africa, and have made the usual donation to the work of Pundita Ramabai in India and to the treasury of the Armenian Orphans' Relief Association.

The four missionary organizations of young women in Central Union, Kawaiahao Seminary, and the Chinese and Portuguese churches, auxiliary to this Board through their contributions and reports but doing each its independent work, have met us within the year in the person of their representatives, and they tell today their stories of special effort along lines of christian service.

The monthly program for the year has furnished abundant food for thought and action.

Devotional service has been rich in nourishment. It gives the keynote to the monthly sessions, and members are both helped and helpful by being prompt in attendance.

The year's topic in "United Study of Missions" has been "The King's Business," and it has been considered primarily with reference to the relation of christian women to their unsaved sisters, and the methods by which they may best develop, in numbers and power, their service along this line, pouring into the Lord's treasury that which is meet of money, prayer and personality. One very interesting study was the composite picture of an ideal missionary society in session, as developed by artists of our own Board and of three sister organizations in the city.

The year's study culminated in a lenten class, small in number but earnest in purpose, seeking ways of practical application of these principles to our own society.

Besides this special literary topic other numbers of interest have enlivened the program—Miss Bosher's picture of the flourishing "Martha Berry School" for mountaineers in America's southland; a glimpse of missions in China and Japan through the eyes of Mrs. Waterhouse; the Students' Alliance at Northfield in study and recreation, as seen by Mrs. Withington; Gen. Armstrong's Hampton, visited by Mrs. Dillingham.

Guests, too, have contributed generously to the program —our own Mrs. Baker in the story of her work in Kona.

Digitized by Google

Dr. and Mrs. Brodie in account of the wonderful Bible study in Wichita, Kansas, where women meet by hundreds weekly to search the Scriptures;

Lady Holden of Australia, emphasizing a thought that has been pressed upon this Board of late from various sources—elimination essential to accomplishment of highest purpose, the Pearl of Great Price in fulness of value at the cost of lesser pearls;

Miss Alice Adams, bringing breath of perfume from the spiritual bloom of her "garden of flowers," which she tends with assurance of hope on the bramble-grown soil of Okoyama;

Mrs. Bronson, returning to mission work in Japan, with her story of intervening labor—the rich service of training, at Northfield, classes of Oriental girls, bright young women of China, Christ-loyal maidens of patriotic Japan, and India's thoughtful daughters, reflecting in sad eyes the age-long sorrows and burdens of the wronged womanhood of their country;

Mrs. Thomas Gladding, in description of a unique baptismal scene in the mud and cobble-covered court of a humble hamlet, the abode of man and beast—a graphic picture of Christian dawn over the low caste homes of India;

Rev. J. S. Worley, acquainting us with country life in Japan—the towns of five thousand inhabitants and less, the eighty per cent of all the land who scarcely so much as know that there is a religion of Jesus; his one telling incident illustrative of hopeful service among these untaught but responsive people; and the closing personal touch he gave when he affirmed that to his certain knowledge our personal influence here in Honolulu, conscious or otherwise, over the man in our yard or the maid in our house, is telling for or against the Kingdom of God in farthest Japan.

Digitized by Google

Truly a valued asset of the Board is its great-souled guests.

In April there was read a reminiscence paper on Mrs. Betsey Curtiss Lyons, the youngest member of the Hawaiian Mission, who made her round-the-Horn trip to these islands when but eighteen years old. Five years she lived at lonely Waimea, gave two little boys to the world, one to be numbered after eighty years among the living sons of the mission, the other, angel-called, to welcome his young mother to her home above, when, worn with life too hard for her, she came to "general meeting" in Honolulu, greeted a newly arrived sister, received tenderest care from sister missionaries, and passed from among them to her eternal reward before she had rounded a quarter century on earth.

The May program comprised, "A Masque—The Spirit of Missions," dealing dramatically with certain periods in the history of local missions. There appeared the "Spirit of Missions" brooding over the work and workers that had been her outbreathing and expression through the century. Scene first set forth the early times when the missionary mother, with chiefess studying at her knee, wrote letters to the American Board, sewing between lines on the outfit of some small maiden about to leave for the far-away mainland and seeing with aching heart the coming parting from her own little ones. Then a scene in the sixties, when the Hawaiian succeeds the American Board in administration, and Woman's Board officials confer as to concentration of their efforts upon the "foreign" work already come to their door. And last a scene of today, with christian workers of various races met to confer on the many-phased forms of social activity carried on in the growingly christian community; while the "Spirit of Missions," in benediction upon their love and labor, passes on to farther fields in darker lands.

The original conception and design of this masque was Miss Ruth C. Shaw's, the lines were written by Mrs. Philip Weaver, and the music of the solo was composed by Mrs. Walter F. Frear.

One hope of the Board is as yet unfulfilled—the project originating two years ago, of securing a trained mission study organizer.

Four times within the year we have enjoyed the dear presence of Mother Bishop. It is of interest to many of us that $12.00 came into the treasury this spring through the sale of Easter rabbits and that these rabbits were made over a pattern which has been in Mother Bishop's possession for seventy-four years—an acquisition of her half-grown girlhood.

Three names have been transferred from the roll of our life-membership to the list of those enrolled above: Mrs. Louise Sargeant Smith once of Maunaolu Seminary, Mrs. J. J. Green and Miss Chamberlain. Miss Chamberlain became a member of this Board forty years ago, a life member and vice-president in 1892, and her last public service was the unfinished leadership of its October session in 1904. From that meeting she went to her couch of limitation, waiting nine weary years for her blessed transfer to the rich activity of Heaven.

A numerous list of business items has recently been transacted by the Board.

I. It was voted to remit the annual membership fee of one dollar, Article III of the Constitution, treating of membership, being revised to read as follows:

Article 3. The payment of Ten Dollars shall constitute Life Membership. The payment of Any Contribution Regularly to the Treasurer shall constitute Annual Membership.

II. It was voted to use during the coming year the envelope system of contribution.

III. It was voted to omit from the yearly schedule the September meeting of the Board, the monthly sessions to run from October to June inclusive.

IV. The hour of convening for monthly meetings was changed from 2:30 to 3:00 o'clock.

V. It was voted that there be appointed departmental committees of four each to aid the superintendent and missionary of each of the four departments of work; these committees to be named by the President in consultation with the respective heads and chief workers of the departments.

VI. It was voted that correspondence be opened with the World's Federation of Women's Missionary Societies, for information relative to the advisability of bringing this Board into the Federation.

Average attendance at the monthly sessions through the year closing has been eighty-five.

Respectfully submitted,

REPORT OF HOME CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

In April Mrs. H. E. Webster, Home Corresponding Secretary, left for the mainland.

During the year three copies of the monthly reports have been sent to the branch societies, in Lihue to Mrs. W. H. Rice, in Hilo to Mrs. G. D. Hindley, and in Makawao to Mrs. W. O. Aiken.

The Annual Reports for 1913 were sent out to life and annual members from the Paradise of the Pacific office in August.

HILO BRANCH OF WOMAN'S BOARD.

OFFICERS FOR 1914-15.

President Mrs. J. Warner
Vice-President Mrs. Charles Furneaux
Secretary Mrs. G. D. Hindley
Treasurer Mrs. Luther Severance

The annual thank-offering meeting of the Woman's Board was held in connection with an afternoon tea in the parlors of the First Foreign Church, on April 16, 1913. There were seventy guests present.

A program had been arranged which was as follows:

Vocal solos by Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Hapai, and by Mr. Laraway, with organ accompaniment; an address by Rev. Mr. Cull, and a few words of welcome to all strangers by Mrs. Kluegel; reports by Mrs. Austin, substituting at the Waiakea Social Settlement, by Mrs. Higuchi, Japanese Bible reader, and by Miss Deyo as chairman of the nominating committee.

Meetings have been held every month throughout the year with the exception of July and August. The membership numbers twenty-nine with an average attendance of fourteen.

All have followed with deep interest the study of the year, a book called "China's New Day," by Isaac T. Headland—setting forth the wonderful progress made in that country during the past ten or twelve years, and particularly since the establishment of the new regime. Interspersed with these readings have been talks on Mission work, both foreign and home, by different members and occasional visitors.

Reports have been read each month from the Honolulu Board, keeping us in touch with the activities there, and inspiring us to greater efforts here.

The report from the Hilo Free Kindergarten comes from Miss Berry, as follows: Enrollment sixty-four. Average attendance fifty-one. The majority are Hawaiians with a generous number of Japanese and a few of other nationalities. She is assisted by Mrs. Kinney.

Mrs. Walsh of the Chinese Kindergarten reports as follows: Enrollment, forty-eight. Average attendance, thirty. These children are all either pure or part Chinese. The work of Mrs. Higuchi has gone on with enthusiasm, regardless of the unfortunate cutting down of the fund which enables her to pursue her course of readings and study.

Mrs. Luther Severance, treasurer, makes the following financial statement:

MAKAWAO BRANCH OF WOMAN'S BOARD.

OFFICERS FOR 1914-15.

President Mrs. H. P. Baldwin
Vice-President Mrs. Mary Simpson
2nd Vice-President.....Mrs. Grace P. Haven
Secretary Mrs. Worth Aiken
Treasurer Miss Harriette Lay

We have held regular meetings the past year at Maunaolu Seminary with the exception of the June meeting, which was held at Sunnyside. Our membership now numbers nineteen, and our average attendance has been nineteen, which is quite an increase over last year. Mrs. Harold Rice was made a life member of the Woman's Board.

Three members who have not subscribed before, are now giving twenty-five dollars each.

Our President has been abroad this year and Mrs. Haven has presided at all of the meetings except two. Mrs. Bowdish and Mrs. Hair have been on the program committee.

We have also listened with interest to the reports received monthly from the Honolulu Woman's Board.

In June our subject was Turkey. In October we listened to the reading of Dr. Gulick's splendid article on "The Strength and Weakness of the Five Great Religions."

In September Miss Weidner, a missionary with thirteen years' experience as principal of a Girls' School in Sendai, Japan, was passing through on her way to America, and entertained us with a most pleasing and appealing address.

Miss Mary Holmes, a lady of rare culture, spoke to us informally, at our last meeting, of her life in China while living with her niece, Mrs. Ruth Beckwith Bullock.

Mrs. Fanny Simpson and Miss Turner have been present at every meeting, each giving encouraging reports of her work among Hawaiians, Chinese and Japanese in Paia and Wailuku.

The Japanese Sunday School at Paia is most flourishing and through the children Mr. Fukuda finds his encouragement.

The Home for Japanese Girls in Wailuku deserves commending, affording a safe retreat for many young girls of that nationality.

REPORT OF HAWAIIAN WORK.

Since Miss Green left last October very little has been done in the Hawaiian department. The Bible readers have continued their work during the year, reporting to me at the end of each month. From September 2, 1913, to May 31, 1914, they have made 546 calls.

The sewing schools at Moiliili and Kawaiahao were discontinued but the Sunday work has been kept up. A large number of pupils were added to the Moiliili Sunday School when the Girls' Industrial School moved to Moiliili. The number of pupils increased from 40 to 120, the classes from three to twelve. This meant a decided increase in the number of workers. Miss Clara Hemenway took charge and served faithfully until May 27, when she left for the mainland. She not only took charge of the Sunday School, but also taught the most advanced class every Sunday. Either of these positions requires the whole attention of one person. Since Miss Hemenway left I have been filling in until someone can be found to take charge. When Miss Hemenway returns in the fall, I think she will be willing to take up the work again.

Mrs. Dillingham and Mrs. Thompson took charge of one class, taking turns in coming, but it proved too great a burden and they dropped out. Mrs. T. H. Gibson has taken that class and is one of our most faithful teachers . Two teachers from Kaumakapili came for a time but felt they must give it up. Miss Ella Fletcher has charge of one class, and serves faithfully. The other class I took until Miss Hemenway left. That class is now taught by a young lady from Kawaiahao Seminary. The younger children in the Intermediate and Junior departments are taught by girls from Kawaiahao Seminary and Kawaiahao Church.

Through the generosity of Mrs. Hans Isenberg and Mrs. C. M. Cooke, a small building in the yard was renovated and equipped for a primary department. This department has been in charge of Miss Dorothy Hoogs, and faithfully and well has the work been carried on. We hope before long to give her the folding organ she needs to complete her equipment.

Helpers in the Sunday School is what we need. I would ask each and every member of this Board to bear this in mind, and if at any time you know of helpers send them to Kamoiliili Sunday School.

Your Hawaiian superintendent, Miss Green, has returned and expects to take up her work in the fall.

Respectfully submitted,

MAY T. WILCOX.

REPORT OF CHINESE WORK.

The workers at Beretania Mission review the work of the year with grateful hearts.

Owing to the enlargement of our premises we have been able to develop the work among the women and girls more fully. Heretofore in the evening there was accommodation for the young men of the night school only. This year we have had a large room upstairs free for the work of our girls' clubs.

In September Miss Frances Bragdon of Evanston, Illinois, gave four weeks of her time to Beretania Mission. During that time we organized two evening clubs, the Try Brigade for Junior girls, and The Willing Helpers for young women. They have both been successful beyond our most sanguine expectations.

The Senior Club has been especially a surprise and blessing. It is interesting to notice how that which we long earnestly desire is brought to pass without any especial planning on our part. This has been true in our Senior Club work. We had long wished to get in closer touch with the young married women of the neighborhood. This we had tried to do through the work of the Morning School. The evening club has seemed to solve the problem even better. While started primarily for senior girls, we have enrolled ten young married women as members. They from time to time bring their friends, and thus the circle of influence is ever widening.

These clubs have worked happily and willingly for our mission. We have been able also to stretch out our hands to poor missions in China, and to needy schools on these islands; not out of our abundance, but because of willing hands and eagerness to help has the work been done.

When Miss Bragdon left us in October Miss Martha Bergersen took up the work of the Morning School and Girls' Clubs. We cannot speak too highly of her work. In the Morning School, Sunday school, sewing class and Girls' Clubs she has worked faithfully and loyally.

Through the kindness of Mrs. Spencer Bowen we have been able to engage Mrs. Warriner to take charge of the morning class for married women. She has taken a loving interest in the work, not only teaching in class but visiting in their homes and keeping in close touch with them. She has also taught a class in raffia work, which has gone forward with great enthusiasm.

On the return of our Bible woman from China, the gospel meetings in the homes were resumed, also the Friday noonday service at the Mission.

Thursday we visit from house to house inviting them to the Friday service. They come, many of them, with babies in their arms and little children clinging to their hands.

Jesus said, "Go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in." This we do.

The work among the young men of our Night School has not faltered. Never has our Mission had more efficient teachers—Miss Warriner, Miss Varney, Mrs. Waldron and a bright Chinese young man.

Mr. Spencer Bowen started a Sunday evening Bible class for these young men, which is carried on with the aid of our good interpreter, Mr. Chun Pang Yip. Mr. Bowen also has charge of the gospel service which immediately follows the Bible class.

For several years we have had a Sunday evening story-telling hour for the boys and girls. In March we decided to change this into something more earnest and purposeful. We therefore organized a Junior C. E. Society with thirty-nine charter members. These meetings are growing in attendance and interest. Miss Yarrow came to us one evening and told us what to do in order to link ourselves with the great Christian Endeavor around-the-world chain.

Last Sunday evening the "Endeavorers" from Fort Street Chinese Church united with our Society, the subject being "Workers Together with God."

All through the year our Sunday school room has been crowded to its utmost capacity. Mr. Spencer Bowen has led the services and taught a class of boys. The most of them have pledged themselves to read the Bible every day. They also bring verses for weekly class mottoes.

In the carpenter shop in the basement Mr. W. A. Bowen has a class of young men.

Considering the meager equipment of our Mission for "boys' work" the attendance on Sunday is remarkable.

At Fort Street Church Mrs. Damon has continued her classes for women all through the year with encouraging results.

Mrs. Chang's school for girls, which numbers over forty, has gone steadily on. During her absence in China new workers took hold, thus increasing the interest in the work.

On every side the workers are busy and much is being done, but there is still much land to be possesed, much work is left undone because of lack of time and workers.

The Master's call to prayer and work is jsut as urgent today as when first sounded. "The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few." "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into the harvest." "Son, daughter, go work today in my vineyard."

REPORT OF JAPANESE WORK.

The Makiki Church celebrated the twentieth anniversary of Pastor Okumura's arrival at the Islands and the tenth of the organization of that church by a prayer and thanksgiving service on the 8th and public exercises on the 9th of April. On that occasion it was announced that the church would assume all of its own expenses, including the salary of Miss Ikeda, the Bible-woman, who has been partially supported by this Board.

The larger regular expenses are provided for by pledges from the members, but many incidentals are met by birthday thank-offerings. A list of the birthdays of members is kept by the church clerk, and a birthday greeting sent to each in an envelope suggesting a thank-offering. Pastor Okumura also sends his personal greeting on the back of a card with five printed rules for christian living inserted as a marker in a five-cent religious book. Last year the thank-offerings amounted to about $120.00. Another unique feature of Makiki Church activities is the ceremony of enrollment on the cradle roll of the Sunday school. The child is placed in a baby carriage—bought and decorated with pink roses by the Woman's Society of the church—in the infant class room, and is drawn by the older members of the class to the front of the platform at the close of Sunday school, the mother and the rest of the class following. The superintendent explains the meaning of the ceremony and writes the name on the scroll, the class sing, the pastor makes a prayer, and the procession returns to the class-room.

The Nuuanu Church has had a season of severe testing. Pastor Hori said recently that he had experienced more anxiety in the last few months than in all his previous thirty years in the ministry. The church seems to be emerging from this trial into better conditions.

Kakaako Church, the youngest and weakest of our three, lost Mr. Kajiro, their evangelist, last year, but have a good substitute in Mr. Sakai, a teacher in Mills School. His capable wife is very useful in the Sunday school.

After Mr. Kajiro left, the attendance at Sunday school fell off for a time, but has come up again and now numbers about seventy-five. There is marked improvement in regularity of attendance and in the behavior of the older boys and girls. An attempt is being made to get in touch with young women in the neighborhood by means of a fancy work class. An embroidery teacher is much desired.

The Japanese Children's Home is prospering under the supervision of its new board of directors. One case of pneumonia and several of measles caused Mrs. So, the faithful matron, much anxiety, and the need of an isolated room for the sick was keenly felt. Fortunately, all recovered in due time. So many applications come from children who need such a home that the matron has felt constrained to admit thirty-one, and the directors have been obliged to add a partially inclosed room at the back for a dining and study room. My Friday evening class with the older children is still pleasant, and I trust profitable, but it would be much more interesting if someone capable of teaching new, bright songs could be secured to assist.

Mrs. Matsuo, the elderly, intelligent lady who read the most of the gospel of Matthew with me before her illness, finally passed away at Leahi Home about two months ago. She was always glad to see me, and to have me pray with her, though she made no profession of being a christian, and wished a Buddhist funeral, that she might be buried by her husband, who died many years ago; but I have strong hopes of meeting her in the Father's House above.

It has been my privilege recently to help Mrs. Rath secure Japanese amateurs to afford entertainment for a mothers' meeting at Palama Settlement; to arrange for a gathering of Japanese ladies to meet Misses Bodman and Bridgeman at the home of our president; and later to meet Mrs. Coleman, from Japan, at Mrs. Ozaki's, in Manoa Valley.

These parlor meetings are of value not only for the avowed object of seeing and hearing our distinguished guests, but also as an opportunity for a semi-social gathering of the leading christian Japanese women of the city. There were twenty-three of them present at Mrs. Ozaki's.

Many calls and telephone messages are required in connection with this work. I had the curiosity to keep count and found that I made twelve calls and sent seventeen messages when arranging for the Palama entertainment!

It has been impressed upon me lately that it is really difficult for uneducated people, unaccustomed to our methods and unfamiliar with our language, to get legally married. I spent nearly the whole of one day in getting my washerwoman married in legal American fashion. With several hours' assistance from Pastor Hori, a proper license was secured, the knot tied in church with two witnesses present, and a marriage certificate placed in the hands of the bride.

Your missionary has been informed of a paragraph in one of the Japanese papers commending her kindness in distributing flowers at the Liliha Hospital every week. I pass on the expression of gratitude to this Society and the church, as it is their due. The visits have been frequent, though not strictly weekly, and the flowers mostly those used in decorating the church, and kindly contributed for the purpose.

During the past seven months I have often seen the Japanese life-term prisoner and his faithful wife mentioned in The Friend for February in the article headed "Oahu Prison as a Reformatory." For thirteen years this devoted wife carried food daily to her imprisoned husband, and when he was removed to the hospital she stayed by and watched him tenderly till he breathed his last, a few weeks ago. Now she plans to earn and save money and take his ashes to Japan.

Wifely fidelity is much emphasized in the teachings of Old Japan, but only christianity would lead a man to give up independent business on Maui and seek employment here in order to visit often his invalid wife in Leahi Home, and see that she had every wish gratified so far as possible. We have had an example of this, which our Bible-woman says will make more impression on the un-christian community than many sermons.

Another instance of fidelity which has come to my knowledge is that of a Japanese girl in the family of Mr. Henry Brown of Kauai. As many of you know, Mrs. Brown was in the hospital here for some weeks. When the time for leaving drew near she wrote, "How can I ever get home alone?" The girl heard this, and knowing that Mr. Brown could not leave his school, she quietly packed her grip, left a note telling where she had gone, and started for Honolulu to help Mrs. Brown make the return journey.

REPORT OF PORTUGUESE WORK.

Days will come and days will go,
Yet 'tis well;
For in joy or sorrow's hour,
Life shall spell
God's dear message, line by line,
In this life of yours and mine.

The year just ended has found us doing those little things which have been brought to us in our little corner of our Master's vineyard for the good and uplift of others. We cannot boast of great things accomplished but can tell of love and cheer taken to some who have very little of either in their barren lives. Of visits to the hospitals, of counsel and advice to the wayward, of financial help to the needy, of nourishing food and milk to some who were ill-fed and to little babies, etc.

Our consecrated Bible-woman continues in and out among the people with the blessed message of a free salvation and a Father's love given through His beloved Son, and being connected with a charitable organization she has splendid opportunities of ministering to their spiritual needs as well as to their physical.

We have been greatly interested in the case of a woman who, after undergoing an operation, has had an open wound which would not heal for more than two years. Although her suffering was intense she always greeted us with a smiling face. She was finally persuaded to enter the hospital again for another operation, and for a while it seemed as though her condition would be worse than ever, but now both her old and new wounds are almost healed and someone has said, "It is a miracle, an answer to prayer." We believe and know from experience that our God hears and answers the prayers of His children.

This woman loves to read and hear the word of God, and recently when Mrs. Tranquada was reading a chapter to her she surprised her by repeating the whole chapter, which she had memorized. We hope that when she leaves the hospital she, who has had such a marvelous experience, may tell others what great things the Lord has done for her and thus win some to Him.

Our Sunday school has continued to increase, especially in our primary class, and we are thinking of occupying, as a primary class room, a building formerly used as a club room, which stands on the grounds adjoining the church premises.

All the church services are usually well attended and it is good to see how attentively the people listen to the Word, but we would wish to see more spirituality among us, more "doers" and more unity of purpose in serving God and their fellow-men with the whole heart.

At Christmas-time all the children who took part in the exercises did very nicely with their songs and recitations, and as this was their year for giving instead of receiving, they raised about $100.00, which were given for charitable purposes.

Easter Sunday was a memorable day with us. An Easter program was well rendered by the children and this was followed by an impressive communion service, during which twenty young people united with the church on confession of their faith. A short time previously the pastor had asked his church members to make a list of persons whom they especially wished to see converted and to make them an object of daily prayer, and the result was this ingathering of young souls. May they ever prove faithful, and realize that they have been saved to save others.

Some of us thought it was a mistake to have the Easter and communion services combined, for we feared the little children would not behave properly after sitting so long, but they were so impressed by what they saw that they forgot to be restless and behaved so remarkably well that it was commented upon by some of the grown-ups.

Remembering that the time is short, we would see greater results and often feel disheartened and cast down, but then something is brought to our notice which gives us new courage and strength to "go forward." It is good to hear a man tell of how he was tempted to put through some shady business transaction and how his knowledge of God's word helped him to overcome the temptation.

Although some will not come forth boldly and confess Christ we have evidence that the Word is having influence upon their daily lives and is giving them power to overcome many things which they formerly never even realized were wrong. Would that we and many others might be able to say with the psalmist, "Thy word have I hid in my heart that I might not sin against thee."

REPORT OF MISSIONARY GLEANERS.

The officers that were made to hold the different offices are as follows:

Dorothea Cooke Treasurer
Virginia Frear Secretary

Miss Currier consented to be President for the rest of the year as Mrs. Henry Alexander was not able to finish the year.

From February through May we met at the Ladies' Parlor and the Homestead.

The average attendance for the year is 8¼. The average offering is 13¾c.

The only interesting thing that the Junior Gleaners have done is the stringing of "Job's tears." These beads we sent away to the Coast to be sold for the benefit of the treasury.

Also these last months the children were not permitted to elect their own officers; but the officers were chosen by one of the members of the Woman's Board.

VIRGINIA FREAR,
Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF LIMA KOKUA.

There have been seven regular meetings of the Lima Kokua this year and two special business meetings, besides a very interesting meeting held at the home of Mrs. Richards, in November, to which twenty of our older members went, to represent the Society, and to meet representatives of the Gleaners, the Aurora Society, and the Kin Kok Kong Tau Fui. Each society told of its origin and the work now being done, and I feel that it did our own members a great deal of good. A report of this meeting was given to the Lima Kokua by Elizabeth Mejdell, at the February meeting.

Four of the seven meetings of our Lima Kokua were participated in by members only, and all the meetings were conducted entirely by the girls themselves.

At the first meeting in October, after the election of officers, reports from all the islands were made of the work being done there and many girls told of the various ways in which they had helped in the home churches during the summer vacation.

At the last meeting such questions as these were discussed: "How May We Make the Lima Kokua a Better Society Next Year?" and "How May We Show a Missionary Spirit When We Go to Our Homes This Summer?"

In November, Miss Bosher told the girls about her trip through the South and of her visits to the famous industrial schools of Hampton and Tuskegee and illustrated her talk with postcards shown through a radioscope. It was especially helpful and interesting.

Mr. Larimer, at the December meeting, gave a fine ac count of his trip through the Holy Land and illustrated his talk with many postcards. The girls learned much about the life of Christ and his surroundings from this account.

We had with us at the April meeting, Miss Bodman, who was just finishing her trip around the world with the representatives of the A. B. C. F. M. She spoke of different places which she had visited and brought with her costumes which she allowed the girls to wear.

It has been a great disappointment to all of us not to be able to hear our beloved Mrs. Coan this year, but we hope that she may speak to us early in the coming year.

We had on hand at the beginning of this school year twenty-six dollars and fifty-five cents ($26.55) and our collections during the year have amounted to thirty-six dollars and eighty cents ($36.80), making a total of sixty-three dollars and thirty-five cents ($63.35). Of this amount, ten dollars ($10.00) has gone to Miss Eula von Vranken, at Siam, for her girls' school; ten dollars ($10.00) to Mrs. Delaporte, in Nauru, for the work there; ten dollars ($10.00) to the Woman's Board of Central Union Church, our annual contribution; ten dollars ($10.00) to Mr. John Martin, to help pay for the organ at the Leahi Home, and twenty dollars ($20.00) to Miss Martha Wiley, Foochow College, China, for our girl there. We have also spent $1.30 for lei material, leaving on hand two dollars and five cents ($2.05).

The girls have tried unusually hard this year to earn the money for their monthly contributions and they have been quite successful. We have organized a number of small groups of girls that have given us very good special music, and music occupies an important place on our programs. We have also learned a new benediction to sing in closing our meetings.

We have started this year a Lima Kokua Kawaiahao lei, which we give to missionaries and other guests who visit us. They are made of Job's tears and dark-blue glass beads representing the school color. They have been much appreciated.

It seems to me that there has been a splendid missionary spirit among the girls and a steady growth in their ability to work in the Society. The meetings grow more interesting all the time.

REPORT OF AURORA SOCIETY.

OFFICERS FOR 1914-15.

President Miss Margaret Branco
Vice-President Miss Mary Phillip
Secretary Miss Aldine Tranquada
Treasurer Mrs. James Herrick

It is a pleasure to report that the members of the Aurora Society have lost none of their interest in the monthly meetings and are keeping up their zeal in helping others. We have had some good meetings but the one held at the home of Mrs. Richards last November is one never to be forgotten. We there met the different societies, auxiliaries to the Woman's Board, and after partaking of delicious refreshments listened to interesting papers read by members of these societies, telling what each society is doing, and we were surely all profited by each other. We were grateful to dear Mrs. Richards for such an enjoyable evening .

This year, at the suggestion of Mrs. Richards, we have taken up the study of The Crusaders in Turkey. A member is appointed to take charge of a meeting each month, and we have had interesting and profitable meetings.

We have not tried any new methods of raising funds. Some of the girls have taken fifty cents, each, out of the treasury for investment, but as the time has not yet come for turning in the money we cannot tell what success we have had. We have talked of getting up an entertainment but have not perfected any plans.

One new line of work which we have taken up is that of providing clothes for needy little girls. A committee was appointed to buy material and cut out the garments, which are given to the different girls to make. We are glad to note that so far not one member has refused or failed to do that which was allotted to her.

One of our number suggested that we send little baskets of violets to the "shut-ins" at the King's Daughters' Home on May-day, which we did. We received a beautiful letter from the secretary of "The King's Daughters," telling us how much our little messengers of love were appreciated.

A new member was added to our society in January and we are sorry that we also lost one last year. We were glad to welcome back our superintendent, Mrs. A. V. Soares, after an absence of nearly three months, visiting her old home and friends in Illinois and also visiting in California.

REPORT OF KIN KOK KONG TAU FUI.

Looking back over the year's work we are sorry we have not done more, but we are trying to do what we can for our church and people.

We regret that our president, a very earnest worker, has gone to China.

We are making bits of needlework for a sale we expect to give in the future.

We have given a little financial aid to the Blind School for Girls at Nanking, China.

At present we are studying the early history of China. Occasionally we read interesting news items from the journals of China. Through these we are in touch with some of the mission schools there.

Our members are working together in harmony and we hope to do good work in the coming year.

REPORT OF FOREIGN CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

The Foreign Corresponding Secretary has read from time to time, in the regular meetings of the Woman's Board, items or letters from the mission fields in which we are especially interested.

We have received very interesting letters from all of the Armenian orphans whom we are helping to support. The teachers in these various schools report our proteges as doing well. Our Woman's Board has an interest in Aintab, Turkey, in Adana, Tálas, at Ourfa, and at Harpoot.

The year's report of the Shattuck School for the Blind, a branch of the American Mission at Ourfa, Turkey, is full of interest. One of our girls, Higanoosh Hagopian, is supported in this school, and her letter, beautifully written in Turkish Braille and expressive of her gratitude, aroused much interest as it was passed around and read by many members of our Board. The object of the Shattuck School is to train teachers for the blind. Ourfa is in "perhaps the greatest blind belt in the world." It does not cost much to support a child for a year in this school, and the superintendent says, "If we could only have what is wasted in America!"

The reports from Mt. Silinda, Africa, and Lin Ch'ing, China, have not been received as frequently as formerly. We give regularly to each of these stations under the American Board.

In the early days of the Woman's Board, we were in close touch with Micronesia. Mrs. Pease, who was for many years a missionary at Kusaie, Micronesia, sent personal greetings to many of the ladies of our Board through a letter written to one of our members. She is living now at Claremont, Cal. The Secretary is also in close touch with another of the missionaries to Micronesia, Mrs. Garland, who with her husband is in charge of the Tank Home for Missionary Children, at Oberlin, Ohio.

The frequent presence at our meetings of missionaries from foreign fields or of round-the-world travelers, who tell us of what they have seen of missionary activities, keeps us alive to what is going on in the great countries. To know of the work at first-hand is to become interested. Shall we not share what we have with those not so favored?

Sec. 3. The Honorary Vice-Presidents shall be elected for life.

Sec. 4. The Presidents of the Auxiliaries shall be Vice-Presidents ex-officio of the Woman's Board of Missions for the Pacific Islands.

ARTICLE V.

The Hawaiian Board shall constitute an Advisory Committee.

ARTICLE VI.

Regular meetings for business, for reports of Auxiliaries and of Heads of Departments, together with a literary program, shall be held monthly unless otherwise voted; and there shall be an Annual Meeting in June at which the Annual Reports shall be presented, including reports from Heads of Departments and all Auxiliaries. Special meetings may be called by any three of the Officers by giving due notice.

BY-LAWS.

1. The regular monthly meeting shall be held on the first Tuesday of the month. Due public notice of the same shall be given.

2. The order of exercises for the monthly meeting shall include:

Devotional Exercises.
Reports of Secretaries.
Report of Treasurer.
Collection.
Reports of Heads of Departments.
Business.
Literary Program.

3. All Societies contributing ten dollars or more to this Treasury shall become auxiliary to the Woman's Board of Missions for the Pacific Islands. The Presidents of such Auxiliaries shall be Vice-Presidents of the Board ex-officio.

4. At the regular meeting in April a nominating committee shall be appointed to secure officers for the ensuing year; also a committee to arrange for the annual meeting in June. It shall be the duty of the latter committee to prepare a program for the literary work of the coming year, to be presented to the Society at its annual meeting for approval or otherwise.

5. Business of importance shall be considered by the Board of Directors before presentation to the Society for action. All questions brought before the Society at its regular meetings may be decided by a vote of the majority of the members present.
